A LIFE DEDICATED TO AFRICAN FILMMAKING 30 YEARS AFTER

May 20th, 2020 - The film was a remarkable success but that was not the case at the dawn of its release. In a December 1993 interview appearing in Fontomfrom Contemporary Ghanaian Literature Theatre and Film, kwaw Ansah related some of these drawbacks to the poet and cultural activist Kofi Anyidoho.

The film was shot in 1985 using a video camera rather than a film camera. Video was a relatively new medium at the time, but Akuffo recognized the advantage that video footage had over film, as film celluloid was more expensive and presented challenges for distribution. Zinabu became the first Ghanaian movie to be produced on video.
